BRITISH EMBASSY,
WASHINGTON.

April 11, 1959

Dear Chris,

When the Prime Minister was in Moscow he met the Swiss Ambassador, M. Zehnder, and has since seen an account of his views about the Russian scene which has been passed to him on a strictly confidential basis.

From Mr. Macmillan's conversation with you at Camp David, he thought that you might equally like to see these independent reflections and has asked me to pass them on to you. He is sure that you will also treat them as strictly confidential, and will of course understand that I am not implying that Mr. Macmillan necessarily accepts all M. Zehnder's observations and reflections.

Yours sincerely

Harold Caccia

The Honorable Christian A. Herter,
Acting Secretary of State,
Department of State.
